

Message to the students of NSEC

My dear students,

I hope all of you along with your families are keeping well abiding by the lockdown rules and taking precautionary measures against Corona virus. I know you, like all of us, are going through a trying time with worries and anxieties about your education and future. Though we are advised to maintain social distancing from each other, we must try to maintain the social bondage through virtual platforms. Your Institute has already made attempts to bring all of you closer mentally and intellectually. We are one of the pioneering institutes in the state to offer you on line classes, so that your valuable student days are not lost. Most of you must be enjoying the classes. We know that the digital programs started spontaneously by us, thanks to our faculty for their dedication, require improvements. While we are on the job, we request you to come out with suggestions for making it more powerful. We assure you that we are trying our best to make the teaching-learning process as excellent as it has been. We thank MAKAUT and AICTE for their time-to-time guidance and help.

With my best wishes & blessing,

Dr. H Mandal
